STINGERS WIN LONDON-LIFE CENTENNIAL TOURNAMENT

The Concordia Stingers, playing without All-Canadian forward Gary McKeigan, downed the Keene State Owls 83-82 to win the 17th Annual London Life-Centennial Basketball Tournament this weekend at Concordia.

Biagio Carrese led the Stingers with 20 points while tournament M.V.P. Rodney Jeanty chipped in with 15. Concordia had advanced to the final with a first round 86-67 romp over Queen's while Keene State dumped McGill 71-66 in the other semi-final. In the Consolation game McGill downed Queen's 95-69.

Along with Tournament M.V.P. Rodney Jeanty of Concordia the other All-Star team was made up of Rick Dejong, Tommy Williams and Marcus Debro of Keene State, Willie Hinz of McGill and the Stinger's Craig Norman.
